u. In response to a question by Senator Young, the Director said thus far the Communists seemed able to continue to provide modern weapons to their troops in South Vietnam. Senator Young commented this was surprising in view of the continued bombing, and he could not understand why the bombing was not more effective.

v. In reply to another question by Senator Young, the Director said we had for some time been reporting on the preparation of the current offensive. Senator Young commented that the Agency had been more accurate than anybody else. The Director said this had not made us popular.

7. Follow up action:

At the conclusion of the meeting, Senator Ellender said he would like a second world map like the one he has in his office on which he has plotted his various travels.
